WELL KNOWN MEN TAKEN BY DEATH

John Wierman, Prominent Hunting-ton Township Man, Dies after Two Weeks' Illness. Pneumonia Takes Joseph Null, New Oxford.

JOHN W. WIERMAN

John William Wierman, one of Hunting-ton township's best known residents, died at his home two miles from York Springs at 8:55 this morning after an illness of two weeks following a stroke of paralysis. He was aged 82 years, 9 months and 6 days.

Mr. Wierman was born at Wierman's Mill in a house a short distance from the one in which he died. He had been a resident of the county and of that locality for his entire life with the exception of two or three years spent in Illinois. He was a son of Joseph Wierman, who conducted the mill for a long time, and upon his death the son took charge and ran it for many years. Recently it has not been operated and has fallen into disuse.

Mr. Wierman was a veteran of the Civil War and was a member of the Grand Army Post at York Springs. He was a sergeant in Company C, 15th Volunteer Cavalry, organized in Philadelphia and known as the Quaker Regiment, serving for three years. His command was frequently engaged in courier service and Mr. Wierman had a great fund of war experiences to relate. He was a member of the Society of Friends. He was a school director at one time and held a number of township offices during his life.

He leaves his wife who, before marriage, was Miss Nancy Elizabeth Myers, of Hampton; and one daughter, Miss Maud Wierman, at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Mary Wierman, of Texas, and two brothers, Joseph Wierman, of Arendtsville, and Henry H. Wierman, at home.

Funeral from his late home at 9:30 Saturday morning, conducted by Rev. Isaac Wilson, Biglerville. Interment at Hampton.

JOSEPH NULL

Joseph Null, a well known resident of New Oxford, died at half past four o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Centennial Hotel, Mount Rock, as the result of an attack of pneumonia with which he had been ill for several days. He was 48 years old.

Mr. Null was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Null, living in New Oxford. He was their only child and was unmarried so that his parents are the only surviving relatives.

For some years he was employed at one of the hotels in his home town and also followed cigar making and other occupations. For the last several months he had been engaged at the hotel at Mount Rock. He was apparently in perfect health before he was stricken with pneumonia.

He was a member of the Hanover Aerie of Eagles, of the Cigar Makers' Union of McSherrystown, and of the Sons of Veterans of New Oxford.

The funeral will be held at nine o'clock Saturday morning at Paradise. The Sons of Veterans will have charge of the funeral.

MRS. ISAAC BENDER

Mrs. Isaac Bender, formerly of Adams County, died at her home in Altoona Tuesday night from Bright's disease. She was aged about 66 years.

She is survived by her husband, one son, John, and one daughter, Blanche, at home; also by the following brothers and sisters, Jacob Bushey, of Abilene, Kansas; and Brough Bushey, Mrs. G. W. Wierman, and Mrs. F. K. Heiges, all of Biglerville.

The funeral will be held in Altoona on Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

JOHN M. CANNON

John M. Cannon, remembered in Gettysburg as one of the former proprietors of the marble yard which was located on the lot on East Middle street, now occupied by the house of Mrs. Helena Ertrier, died in Pittsburgh on Saturday, aged 66 years. He leaves his wife and one son. The family left Gettysburg about 25 years ago.

JOSEPH A. ELLS

Joseph A. Ells died near Ellicott City, on Saturday aged 65 years. He leaves his wife who before marriage was Miss Gertrude Tate, of Gettysburg, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Tate.

SAY THEY VOTED MANY FLOATERS

Democratic Inspector in York's Colored Ward Tells of Republican Workers Giving Assistance to Voters. Two Witnesses Called.

That Oscar Stoner, Republican constable, and Lewis C. Elliott, treasurer of the Republican County Committee, assisted the majority of the eighty "floaters" in the Fourth Ward, York, at the November election was the testimony of William H. Mayer, Democratic inspector in that ward, at the hearing which was resumed in York this morning.

The ward in question includes the section of York in which many negroes live and it is said that about 60 of the 80 men, who are regarded as voting the ticket which will pay the higher price, are colored men. The witness admitted that others also helped voters in that ward. He said that the counting of the votes was carried on in a legal way. Mr. Mayer was the second witness called during the morning and adjournment was taken at 11:30, to this afternoon, when Jere S. Black Esq. was called out of the room on a matter in connection with a case in Court.

The first witness was Lewis C. Elliott, the county committee treasurer, assessor in the Fourth Ward, and a watcher. An effort was made to elicit from him information concerning the party finances, who had been the workers and how much they were paid. Mr. Elliott said that he could not give these facts as his accounts contained about 1200 separate items and it would be impossible for him to remember about the matters asked. He failed to give any information about "floaters."

He admitted having helped in the counting of the ballots by marking in the tally sheet as the judge called off the names. He said that he did this for only a few minutes when the inspector claimed to be having trouble with his eyes and it also developed that H. Samuel Hays, president of the Young Men's Democratic Society performed the same service as Elliott, the inspectors watching both as they worked. Elliott claimed there was nothing irregular in the count of the vote. The witness made Attorney Ruby repeat many of his questions, saying that he did not understand them, so that the greater part of the morning was taken up with him.

Little testimony was taken at the afternoon session in the Brodbeck-Beales hearing at York on Tuesday, the most important feature of the afternoon being the declaration of Mr. Brodbeck's representatives that further hearings would be held at Huntingtown next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Beales' attorneys objected on the ground that the 40 days allowed for the contestant's hearings would expire on Monday. It was further stated that Mr. Beales and his attorneys would pay no attention whatever to these hearings, though Mr. Brodbeck's counsel said there was precedent for the action which he contemplated.

It is said that Mr. Beales' attorneys will subpoena witnesses for the opening of their side of the case which they claim, it is reported, will also start on February 16, the place not announced.

ONE GOAL EACH

TEACHERS TO MEET

A teachers' meeting will be held at Fairmount school, Menallen township, on Thursday evening, February 11th.

SUE SUPERVISORS FOR MULE'S DEATH

Lattimore Township Road Men Must Answer Charge that Stones Caused Mule to Break its Leg and Require its being Killed.

Because his mule stepped on several stones in a public road in Lattimore township and broke its leg A. W. Chronister is now suing the supervisors of that township for $96.50.

The plaintiff alleges that the supervisors failed to keep in repair and "in a reasonably safe condition for public travel" the portion of the public road leading from Lattimore to East Berlin, between the properties of Barney Kemper and Frank Asper. The road in question, the plaintiff alleges, "was obstructed by a certain large stone lying in the beaten track and a smaller stone lying close to it, said stones having been so lying a long period" prior to the date when Mr. Chronister's mule was injured.

It was on February 12, 1914, or almost a year ago, that the animal, says the plaintiff, stepped "on, over and in between the large stone and smaller stone" and broke its left hind leg by reason of which it had to be killed.

In the claim for damages $95 is given as the value of the mule and $1.50 for veterinarian's services, which the Lattimore township supervisors have refused to pay. The usual interest charge is also asked.

J. L. Williams Esq. represents Mr. Chronister.

CLOSE FOR CHURCH

Stores not Open for Business during Fairfield Revival.

Every evening during the hour for the revival service in the Lutheran church at Fairfield, the business places of the town close their doors and proprietors and clerks go to the meeting. After it is over, they return, open their stores again, and continue until the usual time for locking up for the night. This is one of the indications of the interest being taken at the western county town in the series of meetings, which are being very well attended. On Tuesday evening a duet by Rev. and Mrs. W. K. Fleck was part of the musical program. This evening Rev. Mr. Fleck will preach on "Hell, Is It Just?" His subject Thursday night will be "Our Heavenly Home."

At the revival in the Gettysburg Methodist church Tuesday evening there were three more conversions and three more decisions. Musical numbers included a duet by Dr. and Mrs. Oyler, and a solo by Peter Isenberg.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY SWEEPS ONWARD

Take a Village Twelve Miles
From Prussian Line.

RESISTANCE NOW GREATER

Czar's Forces Are Moving Steadily
Forward in the Carpathians—Kaiser's Losses Heavy.

Petrograd, Feb. 10.—The Russians are meeting more stubborn resistance in East Prussia since the Germans received reinforcements there.

At the same time German troops appear to have been withdrawn from at least one position in the Carpathians.

On the right bank of the Vistula Russian light horse is sweeping northward on a wide front, mounted and fighting with bayonets afoot. These troops have driven the Germans out of the villages commanding the main roads toward the German frontier. Nadroze, one of the villages, is only twelve miles from the German frontier and about twenty-eight miles east of Thorn.

In the Carpathians the Russians are moving steadily toward the right wing. The Bukovina movement is plainly sporadic, the Russian object here having been to draw as many as possible of the enemy's troops eastward pending an advance of the Russian right.

General Mackensen's army has ceased to take risks since its left wing was forced adrift on Friday from the strong position at Gamlon, north of the junction of the Bzura and the Vistula rivers.

Orders to avoid more heavy slaughter must have been imperative, for in the final stage of the last assault on Bolimow the Germans abandoned several field guns.

This defensive seems connected with the substantial movement made through Lentschitz to Thorn of the troops intended to replace the important German formations, being moved again into East Prussia.

The Germans are using hundreds of squadrons of motor trucks, each one carrying twenty men with three days' rations, that cover about sixteen miles an hour.

All signs strengthen the belief that Field Marshal von Hindenburg will next try bating ram tactics on the northern line in East Prussia, between Tilsit and Insterberg.

Very great reserves are being pressed behind this gap, where the Russians on Saturday repulsed an attempt at the offensive by the easternmost German column, which a week ago was being forced out of the forest region. The Kaiser is said to have reached East Prussia for this new development of the winter campaign.

The right flank of the German army already is threatened by the Russian strength in the extreme north of Poland, where cavalry is now spread over a wide front. The Russians surprised and broke through an important German position beside Lake Djele, west of Kryn, and captured, besides prisoners, an immense quantity of barbed wire dispositions.

The growing strength of both sides forebodes very heavy battles between the Polish frontier and Koenigsberg. German losses in the battle of Borimow are estimated at 27,000 men, in dispatches received in Petrograd from Warsaw. Of these at least 15,000 were killed, according to the correspondent of the Novoe Vremya, who was at the battle front in the conflict that raged along the line through Borimow, Goumine and Wolacz-Lowiczka, where the Germans attempted to cut their way through the Russian lines in order to approach Warsaw.

ROMANIAN KING ANGERED

Sovereign Demands That Austria Explain Presence of Troops on Border.

Venice, Feb. 10.—According to the Secolo's Vienna correspondent, the relations between the king of Rumania and Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian minister at Bucharest, are badly strained because of the minister's alleged unsatisfactory explanation of the massing of Austrian troops in Transylvania.

The correspondent says that reports received from the front are to the effect that Count Czernin again has been asked to explain the presence of these forces.

BILL TO PROTECT U. S. FLAG

Measure in Congress Provides For Confiscation of Foreign Craft.

Washington, Feb. 10.—A bill to make it unlawful for ships of foreign nations to fly the American flag "for the purpose of disguising the nationality of the vessel or for the purpose of making it appear to be a vessel of the United States or of United States register," was introduced in the house by Representative Martin, of South Dakota.

It proposes a fine of from $10,000 to $100,000 and confiscation of the ship as a penalty.

10,000 Pages of Austrian Casualties.
Washington, Feb. 10.—More than 10,000 pages of names of Austrian and Hungarian soldiers, killed, wounded and otherwise incapacitated in the European war, were filed at the congressional library by the Austrian embassy.

AMELIA BUONOPANE.

Girl Who Was in Charge of Poison Case at Odd Fellows' Home.

Disclosures are probable that will add to the horror of Frederick Mors' story of wholesale murder in the German Odd Fellows' home, near Yonkers, N. Y. Coroner James P. Dunn would not say what the revelations may be, but declared he expected at least three indictments later on and to have evidence enough to convict several persons. Charles P. Wagner, superintendent of the S. P. C. C. in Yonkers, took from the home the fourteen-year-old girl, Amelia Buonopane, who was in charge of the medicine room of the institution. He put her in the society's shelter, where she will remain until she is wanted for further testimony in the case. Mr. Wagner will continue his investigation of the charge that children in the home have been treated cruelly.

POISON IN ORDERLY'S TRUNK

May Exhume Bodies of Persons Who Prisoner Says He Killed in Home.

Yonkers, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Investigation into the tale of Frederick Mors that he killed eight inmates of the German Odd Fellows' home, where he was employed as a nurse, centered in efforts to obtain sufficient corroboration to warrant exhuming the bodies of three of the alleged victims.

These died from poison before the institution moved to Yonkers from Unionport, according to Mors, but the authorities said they would not act upon this statement unless it was supported by other evidence. The other five victims were put to death with an anaesthetic, Mors says.

Powder, said to have been found in the effects of Mors, was reported by the chemist who analyzed it to be a deadly poison.

An inspection of the drug room revealed, the sheriff said, that poisons were kept on the same shelf with harmless drugs. This room was in charge of a fourteen-year-old girl.

RIVAL SHIPS SHELL BLACK SEA PORTS

Yalta and Trebizond Bombarded by Warships.

Petrograd, Feb. 10.—The Turkish cruiser Midilli, formerly the German cruiser Breslau, has bombarded Yalta, on the Black sea, in the Crimea. Russian cruisers then went to the Turkish side of the Black sea and bombarded Trebizond.

The text of the announcement conveying this information follows:

"Sentries between Sebastopol and Yalta reported the cruiser Midilli approaching Yalta, upon which she fired several shots. Stores were damaged, but no one was killed or wounded. The vessel then withdrew.

"In response to this action, Russian cruisers were sent across the Black sea to Trebizond, which Turkish port they bombarded the same day."

British Cruiser Damaged.

Constantinople, Feb. 10.—It was officially announced here that a British cruiser in the Suez canal was badly damaged by the Turkish batteries east of the atwaterway and that some of the Turkish troops crossed the canal between Tuzim and Serapum. "Our vanguard will keep in touch with the enemy and continue reconnoitering the east bank of the canal," the announcement continues, "until our main force can proceed to the attack."

"Part of the Turkish fleet has heavily bombarded Yalta, the Russian Black sea port in the Crimea. At another point our ships sank a Russian vessel."

It also was announced that Turkish warships have bombarded the Russian port of Batum.

U. S. Can Get Australian Wool.

ALLIES TAKE TWO TOWNS

Their Occupation of Positions North of Ypres Would Imperil German Resting on Roulers.

London, Feb. 10.—A new battle is raging in Flanders, according to advices from northern France, and the fighting is reported to be of a violent character.

A dispatch from St. Omer, just below the Belgian border, and sent by way of Paris, says the Germans are bringing up reinforcements transferred from the district about Rheims and that they are being hurled against the allies' lines. The German losses are severe. The hospitals at Roulers are overcrowded, and the wounded pour in night and day.

The village of Middlekerke has been almost destroyed by the fire of the allies. The dispatch says the town of Massa has changed hands several times, and that most of the place is in ruins.

Neither the French nor the German officials report records a second battle on a large scale in Flanders, although Paris reports the bombardment of Ypres and Furnes, without giving any details. The unofficial dispatch from St. Omer, however, was apparently passed by the Paris censorship.

The Belgian towns of Paschen-daele and Langemark have been captured by the allies, according to a dispatch received in Amsterdam from Sluis. It says that the Belgian troops took these places with the assistance of a large force of British troops after a hard fight with the Germans.

Langemark is north and Paschen-daele northeast of Ypres. Their occupation would imperil the German army whose center rests on Roulers.

Fight in Dense Forest.

Paris, Feb. 10.—The report on the progress of the war given out by the French war office follows:

"In Belgium there were intermittent artillery exchanges and Ypres and Furnes were bombarded. The Belgian artillery destroyed a farm, the defenders of which fled.

"On the road between Bethune and La Bassée we recaptured a mill where the enemy had succeeded in installing himself.

"Solissous was bombarded with projectiles, the purpose of which was to set the city on fire. On all the Alsace front and in Champagne, our artillery effectively engaged the batteries of the Germans.

"In the Argonne the fight which has developed around Bagatelle continued in one of the most dense parts of the forest, and consequently became quite confused. Each side, generally speaking, was successful in maintaining its lines. The men engaged in this fight, Feb. 7, did not exceed three or four battalions (3000 or 4000 men) on each side. During Monday only one French battalion (1000 men) was engaged. "In Lorraine and in the Vosges there were artillery engagements."

Nothing of Importance. Says Berlin.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The German war office gave out a report on the progress of the fighting, dated Feb. 9, as follows:

"In the western arena of war nothing of importance has transpired."

Aeroplane Comes Down Afire.

Paris, Feb. 10.—At a point between the Oise and the Aisne, French aviators have brought down a German aeroplane. The machine, in flames, landed in the German lines.

Shells Drop in Switzerland.

Lausanne, Switzerland, Feb. 10.—The Gazette de Lausanne has published a dispatch from Porentruy, thirty-eight miles northwest of Berne and close to the French frontier, which says German artillerymen, firing on a French battery near the frontier sent shells into Swiss territory. This, the dispatch says, is the second time this has happened.

Smallpox in Legislature.

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 10.—The Arizona legislature was forced to adjourn because of smallpox developing among members in the lower house. Representative Sam Briscoe is now confined in the pest house. Reading Clerk Lanner was stricken with the disease and there are several suspected cases in both houses.

Rail Mill in Operation.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—The Pennsylvania Steel company placed its rail mill at the Steelton plant in operation after a suspension on a trial order for 1000 tons of rails for the Pennsylvania railroad. Three hundred men returned to work.

21 Trapped in Flooded Mine.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 10.—Twenty-one miners were trapped in a mine at South Wellington, Vancouver Island when one of their number struck in to an old working, which flooded the shaft. Rescue crews are at work.

WILL POINT TO PERIL IN USE OF U. S. FLAG

Danger to Neutral Shipping to be Represented to Britain.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The administration view of the hoisting of the American flag on the British steamship Lusitania, as stated on the highest authority, is that the use of neutral flags by ships of nations at war is such a customary practice that no formal protest can be made, but that it will be proper to send to Great Britain a note pointing out the dangers to neutral shipping which may follow if such a practice is continued.

Regarding the establishment of a war zone by Germany around the British Isles, President Wilson said he was awaiting the German government's memorandum, being forwarded by Ambassador Gerard, before reaching a decision. He said Germany's first proclamation contained many questions on which the United States would like further explanation.

The president takes the view that the war zone proclaimed by Germany does not constitute a blockade or even a paper blockade. He said it was simply a warning.

Ambassador Page, at London, notified the state department that the British foreign office had confirmed to him the press reports announcing the flying of the American flag over the Lusitania on her recent trip across the Irish sea.

The president said action by congress could not control the use of the American flag by foreign ships, and that restrictions on such practices would have to come through international agreement.

STATE POLICE DEFY GUNS

Rush Thieves' Quarters in Palo Alto and Arrest Four.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 10.—Although robbers with shotguns pointed at their heads warned them to keep off state police rushed into a Palo Alto house and found it to be the headquarters of a gang of thieves who have committed numerous burglaries in this section lately. The house was filled with booty from cellar to garret.

William Geiger, alleged leader of the gang, is only seventeen years old. The others arrested are Louis Tylko, Joseph Hardy and Dominic Parry.

State Trooper L. F. Spang and Corporal William S. Everett headed the police who rushed the house, disarming the weapons aimed at them. The robbers did not have the nerve to fire.

Extra Session in Sight.

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Wilson will not consent to drop the ship bill, he told callers, but is not yet finally convinced that the legislative system will make certain an extra session of congress. His remarks were interpreted by his callers as meaning he would not hesitate to call an extra session if the bill were defeated by a filibuster.

ANNUAL MEETING

Local Society Contributes $100 to National Organization.

The annual meeting of the Gettysburg Woman's Auxiliary of the American Bible Society was held on Monday.

The treasurer reported from the sale of Bibles, church collections and other sources $110.75. The sum of $100.00 was forwarded to the Atlantic Agency for Bible work, the residue retained for local work.

The American Bible Society publishes the Scriptures in forty-seven or more languages, to be distributed by sale, or gift, among the foreign speaking people in this country, German, French, Slavic, Russian, Polish, Hungarian, Welsh, Hebrew, Italian, Spanish and all others needed.

We can sell Bibles and portions of Scripture, for less than ever before, at our Bible depository, in charge of Miss Anna Reck, who has kindly loaned the society a book-case in her store room on Baltimore street, and is always willing to show samples or order by catalogue.

The amount contributed to the Parent Society permits the appointment of life members at the rate of $30 each. Three were named at this time, Rev. R. S. Oyer, Miss Julia Gilbert and Mrs. Philip Houck. Certain privileges are accorded by this membership which can be learned from Miss Reck, or any of the officers, who are as follows: president, Mrs. Helen Keith; vice president, Miss Annie Danner; secretary, Miss Julia Gilbert; librarian, Miss Anna Reck; treasurer, Miss Luella McAllister. Miss Agnes Barr, as auditor, and Miss Lillie McClean, historian, were added to the executive committee at this time.

CAPTURED CATS BY THOUSANDS

Women Awheel Got 479,000 In Fifteen Years.

WORKED AT IT DAY AND NIGHT

One Bought Tricycle, Attached Basket to Rear and Made Daily Journeys, Picking Up Felines, Locking Them in Basket—Spent Fortune on Cats, Died a Pauper.

A strange story of how two elderly spinsters of London, one on a bicycle and the other on a tricycle, searched parks and alleys of the English capital and collected 479,000 stray cats in fifteen years is told in official documents received in New York city from London and filed in the surrogate's court.

The documents contained the testimony taken before Richard Westcott, vice consul general for the United States in England. Mr. Westcott sat as commissioner appointed by Surrogate Fowler to decide whether the Animal Refuge League of London, now affiliated with the Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is a beneficiary of the estate of Miss Elizabeth G. Ewen, who died in New York in 1913.

Miss Ewen left her residuary estate, worth $300,000, to be equally divided among ten associations, all of which had to do with the care of animals. A clause directed that a tenth be given "to the cats' house (Miss Kate Fleming, London, England)." The Animal Refuge League claimed the bequest, and so did the London Institution for Lost and Starving Cats.

Surrogate Fowler appointed the commission to settle the disputed point. At one time an attempt was made to break the will on the ground that Miss Ewen was of unsound mind, but this failed. The fact that she had been married to Otto von Koenitz, an ex-convict, was used in the effort to prove her insane. The marriage was annulled.

Founder Died a Pauper.

Among the witnesses summoned in London were Edward George Fairholm, chief secretary to the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; Miss Elizabeth Clegg, a close friend of Miss Kate Fleming, who established the Animal Refuge League, and Mrs. Joe Constance Morgan, who was interested in cat rescue work.

Mr. Fairholm told how his society had taken over the Corning Cat house and said that the organization, backed by the king and queen of England, received as high as $250,000 a year in donations. Then he related that Miss Corning had died a pauper on April 7, 1913, in an anti-vivisection hospital at Battersea. Everything she owned had been devoted to cats.

From the stories of Mrs. Morgan and Miss Clegg it developed that in 1898 Miss Corning, a woman with a small competence, bought a tricycle, attached a basket to the rear and made daily journeys from her home in Camden Town to London, where she captured cats, locked them in the basket and delivered them to Mrs. Morgan. The latter received 20 shillings a year for putting them out of their misery. Sometimes she sent the baskets by parcel post.

Had to Hire House For Cats.

In the latter part of that year Miss Clegg became interested in the charity and bought a bicycle, to the rear of which she attached a basket. After that the two women made journeys at all times of the day and night and brought back cats. So many animals were captured that it was necessary to hire a house. This was the inception of the refuge home, which changed its name many times.

When Miss Clegg was asked how many cats had been collected and put out of their misery she replied that from 1898 to the date of Miss Corning's death the two had caught 179,000. All efforts to get her to reduce the figure failed. She had her notebook with her, and in it she had kept a complete record of the work. She asserted that between Jan. 1, 1913, and the date of Miss Corning's death they had taken over 11,000 animals.

All these had been lugged, squalling and scratching, to the home, where they were either fed to sickness and farmed out or put to death with chloroform.

5 CENT POSTAGE TO GERMANY

Indirect Postal Service Requires an Additional Rate.

Hereafter it will cost five cents to send a letter to Germany instead of two cents. This was announced by the postoffice department.

It was explained that Germany is a party to an international agreement under the terms of which, when there is direct sea connection between the United States and Germany with no intermediary country or connection, the rate should be two cents. Now it is said that it is impossible to get a letter direct into Germany, and it must pass through some other country, and therefore the rate of five cents will apply.

Other countries are applying the terms of the agreement, as letters posted in Germany with the regular two cent rate are arriving in this country with a stamp calling for a collection of three cents additional.

War's Gallantry

Living of war's gallantry—Meditating, destroying and slaughtering; Deeds that the average citizen Cannot in the amateur gun man, Holding him greatly unworthy; Neutral I am, Praising all men who do murder, So it be done at a government's bidding; Mark, now, the chivalrous soldier Inspired with patriotism, Behold him dropping his bombs On innocent women and children Because they belong to the enemy. Holy his ardor, keen his desire is, Holding his country's glory, Greatly enhanced by their killing, See how the world admires him!

When he is stricken and captured Note the consideration Given to him by his captors, Carefully nursed and honored For risking his own life in killing, Praised for his high devotion, Counted a hero because he Murdered at other men's bidding.

Wounded he lies on the battlefield, Succor and aid are demanded, Forth come the Red Cross nurses Instead of the executioner, So does the whole world admire him.

Such is war's gallantry, Such is the trade of the soldier, —David A. Curtis in New York Sun.

PHILIPPINES CAPABLE OF SUPPORTING 40,000,000.

President Waters of Agricultural College Reports on Conditions.

The Philippines are capable of producing enough food and wealth to support comfortably 40,000,000 people, according to President Waters of the Kansas State Agricultural college, who has investigated agricultural conditions and possibilities of the islands, a copy of whose report was received at the bureau of insular affairs in Washington.

As compared with Japan, he says, the Philippine farmer gets only one-fifth as much per acre; that, while the latter produces 200,000,000 pesos' worth of wealth annually on the 7,000,000 acres in cultivation, the Japanese farmers produce 2,000,000,000 pesos' worth of wealth on their 14,000,000 acres.

The Philippines would be the leading cane sugar producing country in the world, Cuba excepted, if the planters raised as much per acre as do the planters in Java, says President Waters. Furthermore, they would be the third largest rice exporting country if the Philippine growers obtained as high acre yields as do those of Japan or the United States. Again, the islands could support a larger pork and poultry industry than either Canada or Australia if the yield of corn per acre equaled that of the United States or Japan.

While the people of the Philippines pay the farmers of Australia and India about 2,500,000 pesos annually for meat and work stock, one may ride for days through grass up to the saddle skirts, says President Waters, without seeing a herd of cattle or horses.

He says a study of the business of the islands reveals many wastes and cites the fact that last year 9,000,000 pounds of raw sugar were sold at 4 centavos a pound, all of which or its equivalent was bought back again at 10 centavos a pound, and again that with almost limitless forest resources more than 1,000,000 pesos' worth of lumber was purchased from outside.

NO FULL MOON THIS MONTH.

First Time It Has Happened in This Country Since 1847.

The moon will not be full at any time this month. This is due, Professor Harold Jacoby of Columbia university says, to the fact that full moons follow one another at intervals of, approximately, twenty-nine and a half days. The intervals were irregular, he explained, because our calendar was based on the solar instead of the lunar system.

The last time a month passed without a full moon—in America, at least—was in 1847, he asserted. In 1880 Europe had no full moon during February, but the full moon was visible before midnight on the last day of the month in this country because of five hours' difference in time. February, because it contains fewer days, is the only month that is ever slighted in this way.

There were two full moons last month and there will be two next month. After that each month will have one full moon for some years.

BOSTON STILL THE HUB.

"Three R's" More Taught Than in Any Other Large City.

Pupils of Boston get more instruction in the "three R's" than those of almost any other large city in the country, according to a report of Frank Ballou, director of the municipal bureau of educational measurement.

Investigation showed, by said, 26 per cent of the time in grammar schools in Boston is devoted to reading, while the average in fifty other cities is 21.5 per cent. In arithmetic and writing the Boston percentage is slightly above the average. Pupils there give much less time to spelling and more to science than elsewhere.

New York Products at Big Fair.

At the Panama exposition the Empire State will have a mammoth agricultural exhibit, under the direction of the state department of agriculture. Hon. Marc W. Cole, superintendent of co-operation of the department, has the matter in charge and is requesting exhibits from all parts of the state, including Long Island. Several prizes are offered for best exhibits.

600 DEAD BEFORE GNEISENAU SANK

British Shells Tore German Cruiser to Pieces

INVINCIBLE HIT REPEATEDLY

English Officer, Describing Battle Off Falkland Islands, Has Praise For Marksmanship of Foe — Gneisenau So Hot Before She Went Down Crew Couldn't Stand on Her.

A detailed description of the battle off the Falkland Islands, in which the German squadron under Admiral von Spee was destroyed by the British force under Admiral Sturdee, has been received by A. R. MacMullen of Dixie, Ont., in a letter from his son, Lieutenant A. P. MacMullen.

The young man, who was on board the invincible, Admiral Sturdee's flagship, during the fight, writes that the British squadron made the trip from Plymouth to the Falkland Islands in twenty-seven days, arriving there on Dec. 7. The battle occurred the next day.

His letter, dated Dec. 11, says: "Next morning (Dec. 8) we started coaling at 6 o'clock. There were the invincible, Indefatigable, Carnarvon, Kent, Cornwall, Bristol, Glasgow and the armed P. and O. liner Macedonia in the harbor. At 8:30, while we were at breakfast, the Canopus shore station reported a four funneled cruiser in sight. We got orders to raise steam for full speed at once.

"The enemy consisted of the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig, Nürnberg and Dresden, with three transports.

Germans Went to Prayers.

"When the Germans saw four tripod masts they got a bit of a shock, but thought they were dummies at first; then that they were Japanese, as some Japanese light ships have tripod masts, but when they discovered we were British, one of their officers told us, they went to prayers.

"We got within range, 15,000 yards, about 1 p. m. We first fired a few rounds at the Nürnberg and hit her stern. I believe, after which we left the three smaller ones to our lighter ships and then, with the Indefatigable, engaged the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst, opening fire at about seven sea miles. We, being the flagship, came in for the greater part of both ships' fire for five hours.

"Although their gunnery was marvelous, we did not give them much chance, as we had the advantage of speed and chose the range. The Scharnhorst sank about 4 p. m., but we could not stop to pick up the survivors, as the Gneisenau was still in action. At about 6 o'clock p. m., however, the Gneisenau sank, and we steamed to the spot. I came to the deck for the first time and shall never forget the sight. The water was thick with men and wreckage all around us, and the waiting noise was terrible. We lowered all the boats that would float and threw lines to others, but the men were all absolutely numb, although only fifteen minutes in the water. The temperature of the water was 38 degrees. We managed to save over 100, but twenty died from shock. In all about 180 were picked up by our ships from the Gneisenau's crew.

"The Glasgow had the consolation of sinking the Leipzig. The Kent sank the Nürnberg. The Dresden got away, but whether damaged or not we don't know yet.

Six Hundred Men Killed.

"The German doctor on the Gneisenau—we have seven officers aboard—told us that 600 had been killed before she sank and that our shells tore the whole side and upper deck away when they burst. He said the ship was so hot that they could not stand on her, so they opened a torpedo tube to sink her more quickly at the end.

"I should think we were hit about thirty times above armor, and, although nothing vital was hit, we were a good deal damaged about the upper works. The wardroom was completely wrecked and an enormous hole pierced in the deck. It was like a pepper pot, all the bulkheads being riddled by fragments of shell. The more one sees the greater marvel it is that there is not a single casualty in this ship except the commander, whose foot is very slightly damaged. In all about twelve were killed in the fleet and not many more wounded.

"One of our guns, which was not manned, was shot right in two. Fires were promptly dealt with by the stokers' fire brigade. Owing to the great range, none of their shells pierced our armor and only just made a mark on it. I was in the boiler room all the time, and the men worked splendidly, although we heard shells hitting the side of the bunkers."

Powerful Liquid Air Bombs.

The Germans are playing havoc with liquid air bombs. They are cylindrical in form and about as long as a champagne bottle—that is to say, about twelve to sixteen inches—and about five inches in diameter. They are filled with liquid air and are thrown a distance of 300 or 400 yards without any great initial velocity. The effect of their explosion is equivalent to that of 132 pounds of melinite. A single bottle makes a hole forty-five to fifty-five feet in diameter and from thirty to forty feet deep.

Formation of Character.

No great characters are formed in this world without suffering and self-denial.—Matthew Henry.

ACHED ALL OVER, HAD PAINS IN CHEST

Jackson, Miss., Minister Tells How He Suffered After the Grippe and How He Was Restored to Health by Vinol.

Jackson, Miss.—"I am a minister of the gospel and I had the grippe so badly that I ached all over, flesh was sore, I had pains in my chest and back, no appetite, was nervous and had a stubborn cough.

"I tried different medicines without benefit, finally a friend recommended Vinol. I tried it and soon noticed an improvement and continuing its use I am entirely relieved of my troubles. I have also used Vinol in my family for chronic coughs and cold with the best results."—O. W. CHILES, Jackson, Miss.

Grippe leaves the blood in a thin devitalized condition. It takes away the appetite and leaves one weak, without energy and often in a dangerous condition.

In order to restore the blood to a healthy condition, iron must be supplied in an easily assimilated form. We guarantee this may be done by Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, which contains no oil. If you try it and it does not help you we will return your money.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one

WON HIS CASE BY A CLEVER RUSE

Battle of Wits Between Rivals In Love.

Florence Towle was wavering between Clayton Meritt and Douglas Drew. Both were attorneys, and both stood high in the profession, though Drew had a lucrative practice, while Meritt was but slowly making his way. Florence's inclinations were toward Meritt, but she was a practical girl and realized that Drew's established income was far preferable to Meritt's prospects. Her father, Judge Towle, had nothing but his salary, and she had seen her mother's struggles to bring up a family on a small income. Meritt, however, had an advantage in being a bright young fellow and was very popular.

One morning Judge Towle was in his study getting ready to go to court. Florence was in the room reading the morning paper. Clayton Meritt was announced and, mentioning a case he was to try before the judge that morning, asked him some question as to the law governing it. After receiving the desired information he left.

Now, at that time Douglas Drew had just been appointed the state's attorney. Florence knew this and asked her father if Meritt and Drew would not stand in this case as prosecutor and defender. The judge answered in the affirmative, and Florence resolved to go to court and win the trial.

The defendant accused of embezzlement was a young man whose intellect, his mother testified, had been impaired in childhood by a severe case of scarlet fever. Meritt knew that he had been merely a catspaw of others, but they had covered their tracks so well that he had not a scrap of proof against them. As the case progressed it was plain that unless the jury could be influenced sympathetically in the defendant's favor he would be convicted. But juries have been so often hoodwinked by pathetic appeals that Meritt had no confidence of success in this manner. He laid his plans differently.

To prove one of those formalities that are of no importance in themselves, through required by law, Meritt forced the prosecution to put on the stand a clerk of the court and having got him there proceeded to examine him.

"Who attends to the details of business of the court?" asked Meritt.

"I do."

"Consequently you decide many matters for the judges, do you not?"

"I do necessarily."

"Did you not recommend to his honor in this case that bail be refused?"

"I did."

"And were you not present during a discussion between his honor and Judge B. concerning this matter of bail?"

"I was."

"Now, answer me on your oath. Did you not hear his honor say that there was no case against my client?"

Every one in court who had the slightest knowledge of law was astonished at such a question which any student in a law school would know an attorney had no right to ask. The prosecuting attorney jumped to his feet and objected. But the jury had heard the question, and though they had not heard the answer, they believed that the judge must have made the remark or the attorney for the defense would not have thought of asking the witness to repeat it. Meritt, seeing that they had been influenced, rested his case. The jury retired and when it returned brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

As Florence Towle walked out of the courtroom she was joined by the rivals for her favor.

"Meritt," said Drew, "why did you ask such an unkind question as whether the judge had expressed an opinion on the case?"

"And why did you object?" asked Meritt.

"Object? Because you had no right to ask such a question."

"Certainly I had not. And had you not objected my asking it would have been of no avail. You should have waited for the answer, and it would have been 'no.' Of course his honor never said any such thing."

The two men and the girl exchanged glances. Drew looked ready to bite off his tongue that had made the objection. Meritt smiled complacently, and Miss Towle burst out laughing. The prosecuting attorney returned to the courtroom to attend to the next case, while Meritt and Florence left the building, and before they parted Meritt had been invited to dine at the Towle home the same evening.

"Give me your hand," said the judge to Meritt when they met. "You are the first lawyer since I have been on the bench who has had the impudence to attempt to prove that I had expressed an opinion in a case to be tried before me."

"And you saved an innocent person," Florence put in. "For you know, papa, Mr. Meritt said that he knew his client was not guilty."

"I was sure to lose my case," replied Meritt, "unless I could win it by a ruse. I was in an agony of dread lest the prosecuting attorney should permit the witness to answer."

From that moment the love tables were turned in favor of Meritt. The judge was delighted with his brilliant stroke, and the daughter had always preferred him. Meritt won the girl and in time became one of the most distinguished cross examiners at the bar.

The Scrap Book

In Doubt.
Senator Bankhead of Alabama. In a hurry to see Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in Washington the other day, walked into the secretary's outer office and inquired of Private Secretary Cooksey if Mr. McAdoo was in.
"Step right into the secretary's private office," said Mr. Cooksey. "I am expecting him to return from lunch at any moment."
"I don't know about that," replied the senator. "When any man who is as hungry looking as Secretary McAdoo goes out to eat there is no telling when he will return."—New York World.

Be Strong.
We are not here to play, to dream, to drift.
We have hard work to do and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle; face it; 'tis God's gift.

Be strong.
Say not the days are evil—who's to blame?
And fold the hands and acquiesce—oh, shame!
Stand up, speak out, and bravely, in God's name.

Be strong.
It matters not how deep intrenched the wrong.
How hard the battle goes, the day how long.
Faint not; fight on; tomorrow comes the song.

Not Flattering.
An old Scotchwoman who had resisted all entreaties of her friends to have her photograph taken was at last induced to employ the services of a local artist in order to send her likeness to a son in America. On receiving the first impression she failed to recognize the figure thereon depicted as herself. So, card in hand, she set out for the artist's studio to ask if there was no mistake. "Is that me?" she queried.
"Yes, madam," replied the artist.
"And is it like me?" she again asked.
"Yes, madam; it's a speaking likeness."
"Awel," she said resignedly. "It's a humblin' sight."

Pretty Dilapidated.
On a dilapidated narrow gauge railroad in a certain state a traveler was struck with the general air of hopelessness of the entire country. Run down farms, fences falling to pieces and houses unpainted and dismal were seen as mile after mile was reeled off. Finally a countryman got on, and the two fell into conversation. "Country around here looks fearfully dilapidated," remarked the traveler. "Yas, but jest wait 'n' ye'll see sumpin' wuss," replied the countryman. The train stopped. They looked out and saw a rail missing ahead. The entire train crew clambered out, crowbars in hand, proceeded leisurely to the rear of the train and in due time loosened a rail and carried it forward. It was spiked into position, and the train proceeded.

"Somebody stole a rail?" asked the traveler. "Yas, about twenty years ago, I reckon. Evah since they hain't nobody thought of a new one. When the train comes back they've gotter stop 'n' tear up a rail behind 'em. Ain't that the dilapidatedest thing ye ever see, stranger?"

Had a Fine Grouch.
The horse had run away and was tangled up in the wire fence at the side of the muddy road. Its half-witted owner had kicked and sworn and tried to lift the animal till he was out of sorts and covered with mud.

A well-groomed man came along, took in the situation and suggested: "Spring the fence back; then he can get his feet free."

The owner of the horse did as he was told. "Now give him a cut with the whip and he'll get up himself."

This the owner also did. Then he looked at the horse, up and ready for travel; looked at himself covered with mud and looked at the immaculate gentleman in the road. Wrath filled his soul.

"Well," he grumbled, "thank you just as much as if you had helped me."—Everybody.

Family Connections.
A Persian merchant, complaining bitterly of some unjust sentence, was told by the judge to go to the end.

"But the end is your uncle," protested the plaintiff.

"To the sultan, then."

"But his favorite sultana is your niece," wailed the injured one.

"Well, then, go to the devil!" said the annoyed judge.

"Ah, that is a still closer connection," said the merchant, and he left the court in despair.

Straightened It Out.
Archbishop Magee was once present at a full dress debate on the eastward position, when doubts were expressed as to the exact meaning of the words "before the table." After a speech or two Dr. Magee seized a piece of paper and wrote: "As to the phrase, 'The piper played before Moses,' doubts have arisen. Some believe its meaning to be that the piper played before Moses; that is, at a period anterior to his birth. Others hold that the piper played before Moses in the sense of preceding the great lawgiver when he danced, while others teach that the piper played before Moses before or in the presence of Moses when the son of Amram died. All these are wrong. The phrase is to be understood as implying that the piper played at the north end of Moses, looking south." The document was handed up to Archbishop Magee, who looked grave.

Dangerous Household Pets.

It is commonly supposed that the danger from hydrophobia comes from the roving, ownerless, stray dogs of the city. This is not the real truth. Most of the victims of hydrophobia are bitten by house dogs or cats that are household pets.

Taking a Chance.

Water Power Wasted.

The famous Victoria falls of the Zambesi river, in Rhodesia, is estimated, could be made to yield 35,000,000 horsepower, or just about the same amount as all of Europe's water courses.

AN ORDINANCE

AUTHORIZING THE BOROUGHS OF GETTYSBURG TO CONTRACT WITH GETTYSBURG LIGHT COMPANY FOR ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

Whereas, The Borough of Gettysburg by reason of the former excessive cost of electricity has heretofore authorized the construction, equipment, operation and maintenance of a municipal plant for furnishing electric lights for the streets and other public places within said Borough; and

WHEREAS, The Gettysburg Light Company now offers to furnish and maintain all necessary electric street lights at an annual cost which does not exceed the annual cost at which the Borough could reasonably expect to operate and maintain a municipal plant for the same purpose, and thereby enabling the Borough to save the amount of the initial cost of constructing and equipping such municipal plant; therefore,

The Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, County of Adams and State of Pennsylvania does ordain:

Section 1. That the Borough of Gettysburg contract with the Gettysburg Light Company for the purchase from said company of electric street lighting for the period and at the prices and upon the conditions hereinafter contained, and that the President of the Town Council be directed to execute such contract in the name and on behalf of this Borough and that the seal of this Borough be affixed unto such contract and attested by the Secretary of its Town Council.

Section 2. That the said contract with the Gettysburg Light Company shall be in the form and upon the terms and conditions following, namely:

"The Gettysburg Light Company agrees to supply electricity to the Borough of Gettysburg for lighting the streets, alleys, highways and other public places within said Borough and for that purpose to furnish, install, maintain and renew all poles, wires, lamps, equipment and other apparatus necessary therefor, as follows:

(1). To furnish such number as the Borough may from time to time require and designate of 32 and 60 candle power lights or lamps of the kind known as "Tuxedo" or "Tuxedo" lamps; and of 80 and 100 and 250 candle power lights or lamps of the kind known as "Nitrogen Filled" lamps, all of said lights or lamps to be maintained and from time to time renewed and replaced so that they shall at all times illuminate substantially to their full normal capacity.

(2). To erect, install and place and from time to time to change the location of said lights, on the public streets, alleys, highways and other public places in the Borough, at and to such places and at and to such elevations as may be designated from time to time by the Town Council of said Borough.

(3). All lights furnished shall burn and illuminate continuously throughout each and every night from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise, except on strictly cloudless moon-light nights, when they need not burn or illuminate from one hour after moon-set until one hour before moon-set unless during such time the moon is obscured.

(4). A record showing the time of arising on and off of said lights shall be kept by the Company which shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Borough, its officers, employees and agents, and at all times the same, equipment and other apparatus used in supplying electricity as aforesaid to the Borough shall be open to examination and inspection by the Borough and its agents and officers.

(5). If any of said lights be not lighted, or shall not illuminate to substantially their full normal capacity for any continuous period of more than two hours in any one night as heretofore required, the Borough shall be entitled to deduct from the price to be paid therefor the sum of five cents for lamps under 100 C. P. and ten cents for lamps of 250 C. P. and over. Provided, that no deduction shall be made for outages occasioned by the act of God, or caused beyond the reasonable control of the Light Company, when the Borough shall be entitled to deduct a proportionate amount for the time during which they were not so lighted. The written report of any police or other duly appointed officer or agent of the Borough as to the time during which said lights are not lighted as required shall be prima facie evidence of the same.

(6). The Light Company shall furnish electric current for the lighting of the Engine House and Lock-up free of charge to the extent of 416 K. W. per year, and the Borough shall pay for all current used in excess of that amount at the rate of six cents per K. W., as measured by a standard meter.

IN CONSIDERATION WHEREOF, the Borough of Gettysburg agrees to pay unto the Gettysburg Light Company in monthly installments on or before the 25th day of the calendar month next succeeding the month of consumption the following sums, less deductions and penalties hereinafter mentioned, to wit:

For 32 candle power lamp at the rate of $10.55 per lamp per year.
For 60 candle power lamp at the rate of $11.65 per lamp per year.
For 80 candle power lamp at the rate of $13.41 per lamp per year.
For 100 candle power lamp at the rate of $16.48 per lamp per year.
For 250 candle power lamp at the rate of $36.74 per lamp per year.

It is mutually agreed that the period during which lights shall be furnished under this agreement shall commence on March 1, 1915, and be fully ended on March 1st, 1920, and that the contract shall be binding upon and for the benefit of the successors and assigns of the respective parties.

Section 3. It is hereby understood and agreed that neither the purpose nor intent nor the obligation of this contract, if and when approved by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is such as to impair or in any wise effect the exercise by said Commission of any of the powers vested in it by the Public Service Company Law, approved July 26th, 1913.

Section 4. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SUFFRAGE PASSES HOUSE; 130 TO 71

Many Women in Legislature When Vote Was Taken.

NOW GOES TO THE SENATE

If Upper Body Passes the Resolution It Will Go Before the People in November.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—The resolution to submit to the voters the woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution was passed finally in the state house of representatives by a vote of 130 to 71.

The resolution now goes to the senate, and if passed by that body the amendment will go before the people in the election next November.

The resolution was passed by the last legislature, the vote in the house in 1913 being 131 to 70, and a tie in the senate being broken by the lieutenant governor.

Mrs. Frank H. Roessing, president of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage association, headed a delegation of women that sat on the left of Speaker Ambler during the debate.

Mrs. John B. Herron, of Pittsburgh, vice president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage sat with the "antis" on the right of the speaker.

Two Philadelphians, William H. Wilson and Frederick Beyer, were the principal spokesmen for and against submission. Another Philadelphian member, Sigmund J. Gans, made a thorough canvass of the house, and it was in part due to his efforts that the anti-suffragists polled a considerable vote.

The debate was opened by Mr. Wilson, as sponsor for the resolution. He declared the resolution was a party pledge, the pledge of many members and the pledge of the governor, and had been much discussed since its passage two years ago. He asked that it be passed by a decisive vote, as it was a referendum.

Mr. Beyer answered Mr. Wilson, declaring that the resolution was not a mere referendum, but that the constitutional provision for amendment showed that full consideration by two legislatures was demanded and that there was nothing binding on this legislature because that of 1913 had passed the resolution. Mr. Beyer declared that women were replacing the men in many lines of employment and that having driven men from place in labor they were now trying to take his place in government.

A statement by Mr. Beyer that 11 things went on men might as well be eliminated from the constitution stirred up Mr. Cromer, of Allegheny, who declared that women's ambitions were entitled to consideration and that the pledges should be kept.

Mr. Roney, of Philadelphia, advocated the resolution, but said that he voted to submit it to the people would not control his action in November.

Mr. Ulrich, of Lebanon, spoke against the resolution and remarked that in Kentucky women had been accused of selling votes. He wanted to postpone indefinitely, but failed to get support.

The announcement of the vote was greeted with applause by groups of suffragists in the galleries.

Suffrage in New Jersey Senate.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 10.—The woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution was reported favorably in the senate and gives a second reading.

The house has passed the resolution. Both branches passed the resolution last year. If the senate acts favorably now, the resolution will be submitted to the electorate this year.

SURPRISES IN LOCAL OPTION

Twenty-five Per Cent Petition Necessary For Special Election.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—The Brumbaugh local option bill, which was introduced in the house Monday night by Representative George W. Williams, of Tioga county, contains several surprises.

Chief among these is a requirement of a petition of a quarter of the number of voters participating in the last general election to bring about a special popular vote in a county on the wet or dry question. In Philadelphia this would require approximately 62,000 assessed voters to sign a petition of this kind.

The measure further provides that the special election shall be held not less than thirty and not more than forty days after the presentation of the petition, and shall be governed by the laws directing general elections.

It is distinctly specified that there must be intervals of three years between these special elections on the liquor question.

The bill provides for the county unit.

The bill was referred to the house law and order committee, of which Mr. Williams is chairman. The committee is understood to stand 14 for and 11 against.

Pupils Escape From Burning School. Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 10.—The frame school house at Maryd was destroyed by fire. All the 175 pupils were taken out safely. A defective flue was the cause. The loss is $6000.

LEBANON CO. BANK NOW $30,000 SHORT

Prob. Shows Losses May Reach $50,000.

Lebanon, Pa., Feb. 10.—The inquiry into the shortage in the affairs of the First National bank, of Schaefferstown, Lebanon county, and the causes of the suicide of the cashier, Alvin Binner, shows that instead of the overdrafts amounting to $15,000, they will aggregate fully $30,000, and there are reports that they will even reach $50,000.

There are rumors of impending prosecutions. President Uriah B. Horst, of the bank, has called a meeting of the shareholders and general public to be held in the town hall, when, it is believed, a startling tale will be told.

A full report of the discrepancies in the books will be made at this meeting, as the directors do not wish to keep anything from the public. Mr. Horst admitted that a proposition will be made to assess the stock to raise cash to reopen the bank.

The bank has deposits of nearly $50,000, a surplus of $15,000 and undivided profits of $2600, and it is the intention of the directors to appeal to the stockholders.

The searching methods used by Examiner Logan brought to light still another cause of shortage which had heretofore not been considered, and which now justifies the estimate of from $50,000 to $75,000 as the amount of the loss.

He asked that every depositor in Schaefferstown bring his bank books to be balanced. Quickly it was found that some depositors had been credited in their pass books with sums that do not appear on the books of the bank. In one case this amounted to an even $1000.

THE WILHELMINA SEIZED

Great Britain Said to Have Taken Charge of American Ship.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Reports have been received here that the British seized the grain ship Wilhelmina off Falmouth.

This has not been reported officially to the state department, and details are for the present lacking.

The action of the British is not understood in Washington. It was reported that the American commission for the relief of Belgians had about concluded negotiations for the purchase of the entire cargo of the American steamship in the object of sending it directly to the zones of the most needed.

TIoga COUNTY "DRY"

License Applications Ruled Out by Court Due to Defective Advertising. Wellsboro, Pa., Feb. 10.—All applications for liquor licenses in Tioga county were ruled out of court when Judge Davis Cameron sustained the position of attorneys for the remonstrances that the applications had not been properly advertised.

Tioga county will be dry for one year as a result, thirty hotels closing their bars. The defect in the advertisement was in not designating the residence of applicants.

Bryan Criticized in House.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Criticism of Secretary of State Bryan for filling lecture engagements "while a war is raging in Europe" was made in the house by Representative Mondell, of Wyoming.

Creamed Codfish, Potato Cakes.
Johnnycake.
Coffee.

GOOD old fashioned johnnycake may be served to advantage in the winter. Anything in which cornmeal is an ingredient is heating.

Various recipes for making johnnycake are here given:

A Standard Recipe.

Plain Johnnycake.—Take one pint each of cornmeal and buttermilk, a teaspoonful each of salt and baking soda, three eggs and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Beat the eggs together until light, add them to the butter, then stir in the cornmeal and beat well. Let the baking soda dissolve in two tablespoonfuls of boiling water. Add this together with the butter and salt to the batter and mix well. Grease shallow baking pan. Pour the batter into the pan. Bake in a moderately quick oven.

Serve in Squares.

Cream Johnnycake.—Sift together three cupfuls of cornmeal, two cupfuls of wheat flour, one cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking soda and half a teaspoonful of salt. Work to a moderately thick batter with two breakfast cupfuls of cream, pour into a tin greased with butter, bake for about twenty minutes in a quick oven, and serve hot, cut into squares with a well heated knife.

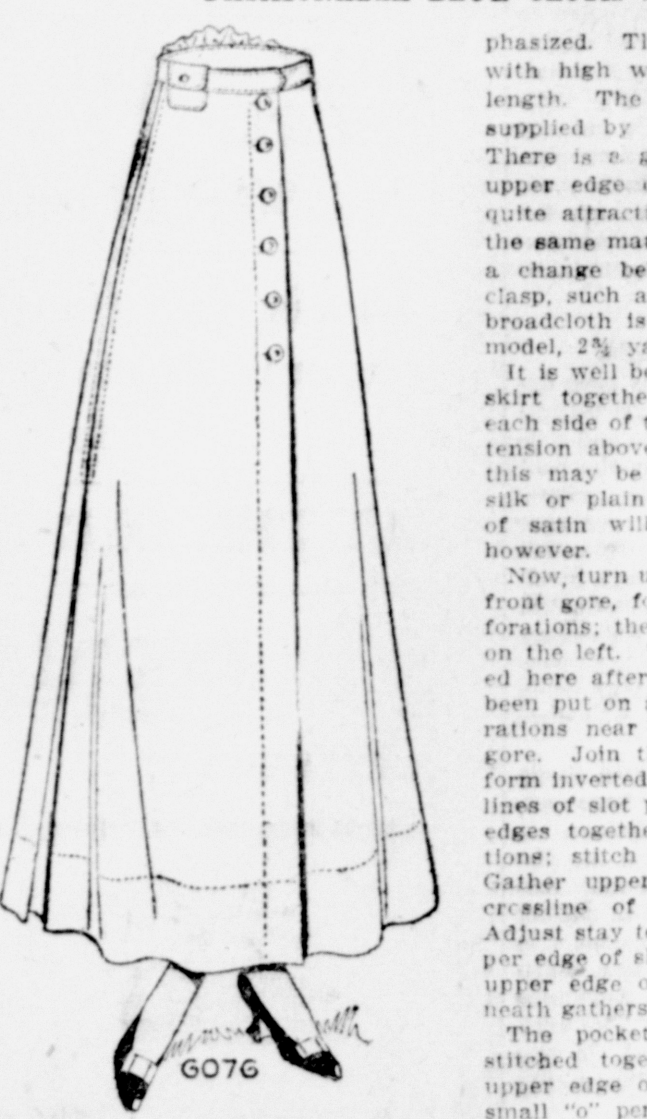

When Eggs Are Cheap.

Johnnycake With Egg.—Beat three eggs in a quart of milk, stir in one cupful of wheat flour, with which has been mixed one teaspoonful of baking soda and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Sprinkle in as much cornmeal as is required to mix to the right consistency.

A Detective's Reminiscence

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure
Newspaper Syndicate.

When I retired from detective work after an experience of sixteen years the public press and my friends were pleased to say that I had done excellent service. On the whole, this praise was deserved, but at the same time, in one case at least, I had shown a stupidity worthy of the greenest patrolman on London's police force. I had been at Scotland Yard for three years when I removed my family to Queen street. It was to an apartment house, and we took the second floor. On the floor above were a married couple named Hadan. The man, as I came to understand, was a manufacturing jeweler in a small way. The Hadans lived very quietly and made no display, and the wife kept very much to herself. Not as a detective, but as an occupant, I learned that the husband was home only two nights a week.

At about the time of my removal I was set to watch in a general way a certain dealer in bric-a-brac named Saunders. His shop was a good three miles from Queen street. He dealt in all manner of art goods, secondhand, and it had been pretty well established that he bought goods without asking any questions. In watching him I assumed another identity and became a customer. We came to be on quite friendly terms, and I flattered myself that he had not the slightest suspicion of the part I was playing. At one time and another I was the means of enabling a number of householders to recover stolen goods Saunders had bought, but the man always evaded the law. I got to know that he lived in Jane street, only a few blocks away, where he had a wife and one child. One of our men occupied a room in the same house, and in a casual way he had learned that Saunders was home only two nights a week. He came and went as did my neighbor Hadan.

A year after I began watching the bric-a-brac shop there were complaints made about a certain merchant tailor named Davison. He was making suits to order so cheap that other tailors declared the goods must be stolen. As a matter of fact, several bolts of cloth stolen from a tailor in a town fifty miles away were found in his shop, but he proved himself clear of the law by a narrow margin. I became a customer of his, as I had been of Saunders. There were times when we had a glass of ale and a pipe together, and from the very outset I used my best efforts to get on to his little game. He continued to make suits to order far cheaper than his rival, but though his shop was searched again and again no more suspicious goods were found. Davison was full of talk and seemed to be without suspicion, but I got no information from him to help my case. I early ascertained that he lived in Montgomery place and had a wife and two children. By the merest accident I further learned that Mr. Davison was at home only three nights a week.

Now, then, for six years I knew these three men, and two of them were under espionage. I talked with them, ate with them, drank with them and never imbibed the faintest idea that I was the biggest fool in the world. One day a man who was in a machine shop not far from detective headquarters was killed by accident. I happened to be almost the first one on hand. I recognized him at once as the tailor, and the body was taken home. While doing his work the undertaker found that the black hair and mustache and wart that he wore were all false. This was a revelation even to the wife. The affair was published in the papers, and in less than two days it was found that Hadan, Saunders and Davison were one and the same man. He had padded his body to increase his size and apparent weight, and a false tooth, whiskers, mustache and a wart had done the rest. You will say I ought to have detected the cheat by the voice. In an ordinary case, yes, but this man had made a study of disguising his voice.

You will say that a good detective ought to penetrate such shallow disguises as false whiskers. In answer to that let me say that whiskers or mustache can be made to look so genuine that no living man can detect the cheat. The wart was a new dodge and one I was not up to. It was so well done that I had seen the man pick it with a pin and cringe a little as he did it. I should have felt bad enough at being fooled even had there been no case in it, but there was a case. This slithering was a "fence" for thieves, the bric-a-brac man was another, and the tailor was a third. He was married to three different women; he lived in three different parts of the city; he carried on three occupations; he represented three different men. All this he did successfully for six or seven years and but for the fatal accident might have gone on for years more. During his career he had made a fortune, and never a person had suspected the disguises. It seems as if a wife should have detected them, but the three did not, or at least so claimed. Yes, I was made a fool of, but fortunately I was the only one who knew it, and I may give the fact away now without my identity being suspected. It would have added more glory to my record to have caught up the sly rascal, but now and then the sharpest of our profession are outwitted, and if I made a stupid blunder in the one case I have offset it a dozen times over in making successes of others.

Ingenious Youngster.

A little boy came near getting a good spanking for answering his father in a pert way, but escaped by saying, "When you were a small boy, dad, didn't you ever get excited and say the wrong thing?"

RURAL CO-OPERATION.

Extreme individualism in agriculture has had its day. There can be no question that the key to the solution of many of the problems of rural life will be found in some form of concerted action or of co-operation. Some form of organization is as inevitable as it is desirable. Without it the farmer cannot have adequate schools or social life; without it he cannot secure good roads, standardize his products or economically market them; without it he cannot have the proper health facilities or lay credit foundations which will enable him to secure capital at more reasonable rates. Secretary of Agriculture Houston.

INGREDIENTS OF FERTILIZERS

Three Elements That Afford an Increased Crop Yield.

Present agricultural practice prescribes the use of three chemical elements as a "soil amendment," a "stimulant for plant growth" or a "plant food," as it is variously put. These three elements when applied to the soil in which a crop is growing have been found by practice to afford an increased crop yield. They are phosphorus, potassium and nitrogen, spoken of by the trade terms of phosphoric acid, potash and "ammoniates."

The nation's supply of these three common ingredients of fertilizer may be summarized as follows: Of phosphoric acid there is an abundant supply in the large deposits of phosphate rock in Florida and Tennessee and the enormous deposits of Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

Of potash, now obtained exclusively from the German mines, there is little known in this country outside of the desiccated residues in Seaford, California, and the giant kelps of the Pacific littoral. In the latter there is much more than enough to supply the present demands of the fertilizer trade of the United States, the present annual consumption of potash being about 1,250,000 tons of varied composition. At present the kelps are not supplying any of this, since it has not been determined by actual experimentation on a commercial scale that they can be used economically as a source of potash.

Of "ammoniates" there is a large source in the ammonia produced as a byproduct in the distillation of coal for the production of gas or coke or both. This source is but partially developed, as by the methods most commonly practiced in this country this possible byproduct is not recovered. The amount of ammonia now going to waste is almost large enough to supply all of the "ammoniates" now demanded by the fertilizer trade. The shotters supply a large amount of tankage and dried blood of high fertilizer value, but of these possible byproducts there is still an enormous loss through the lack of organization and co-operation in the small scale slaughter of animals for food.

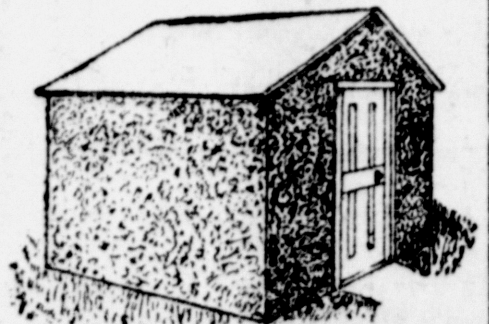

New Bean Resists Blight.

A new variety of beans has been developed at the Michigan Agricultural college that will resist blight and out-yield other varieties. During the past three years the anti-blight beans have averaged thirty-five bushels per acre in the college variety tests, in which were included many of the high yielding Michigan varieties, such as Cook's, Boston, Landis, Scully's, Shoemith and a number of others. In each case the best yields of the other types made only an average of twenty-five bushels per acre.

The new bean originated in a single seed planted in 1908 and has been tested under heavy disease conditions. It is the only bean that resisted the disease conditions enough to be fully ripe and to drop its leaves by bean pulling time in 1914. However, this bean is not disease free, and there is a sharp distinction between disease resistance and freedom from disease. The anti-blight bean, as it is called, is one that will fill its pods and mature a crop in spite of disease conditions.

A Concrete Icehouse.

The modern equipment of a rural home, especially if it is located where a supply of ice is available for harvest in the winter, is not complete without an icehouse. And for this purpose no material lends itself better than concrete. To be sure that the heat will be kept out in the summer

SIMPLE, EASILY CONSTRUCTED ICEHOUSE.

It is well to provide for a wall at least sixteen inches in thickness. A wall of this character will afford ample protection for the contents of the house. A hollow wall is the most advantageous in construction.

The house should be as nearly square as is practicable, the size depending on the amount of storage capacity desired. A house 10 by 12 feet in height will be large enough for any ordinary requirements. The foundation can be molded solidly, but the walls must be hollow in order to act as efficient non-conductors of heat.

Let the Present Be Sufficient.

Wouldst thou fashion for thyself a seemly life? Then do not fret over what is past and gone; and, spite of all thou mayest have left behind, live each day as if thy life were just begun.—Goethe.

Medical Advertising WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements.

This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fats, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is free from harmful drugs or alcohol.
